Samantha's Spotlight

Samantha Matchefts MASFAP President,
Senior Associate Director of Financial Aid
University of Missouri—St. Louis

Dear MASFAP Family,

Time is flying by us and we are in for a hot week in Missouri! Take time and remember why you enjoy your work, and try to keep your life balanced as we head into August.

My time as MASFAP President is zooming by (over halfway through) and we have a lot of exciting projects and progress happening within the organization. Stephen Garman and his committee have been working diligently to move our website to a new provider. This is a huge project, and I appreciate the time and effort put into this. Our website is used for registration, communication to the entire membership, news and committee work to name a few of the big pieces. Please be on the lookout as we transition to the new provider, as your new login directions with instruction on how to review/update your profile, along with added features will be emailed to you in the next month or so. Please be attentive to these messages so we don't miss a beat! Kayla Klein and the early awareness committee are gearing up to host nine high school counselor workshops this fall with the focus on FAFSA and financial aid. These workshops are growing and we are building great partnerships with our high school counselors in the state. I hope you will plan to attend one of the high school counselor workshops near you this year so we can together, as an association, build relationships to make the handoff from high school to college better.

Conference planning is one of the biggest undertakings each year. This year our annual conference is November 11-13 at the Lodge of the Four Seasons. Please, please mark your calendars as "out of office"! This is the one time of year we convene as a state, and your participation is so important!

Additionally, the MASFAP Executive Board voted at our June Board meeting to continue the popular incentive: if an institution's Financial Aid Director/Manager registers and attends the conference, any other member from that institution will not be charged a registration fee! MASFAP is able to subsidize your registrations due to the generous donations of corporate support for our annual conference and funds earmarked for professional development from the Allan Purdy Professional Development fund. I hope you will take advantage of the great value and resource this conference provides!

Since our last newsletter, we have elected new board members, had numerous professional development events, our leadership development group is meeting, and the list goes on. It is awesome to see the amazing people taking on projects, small and large, to push MASFAP forward. I encourage you to get involved on committees. Reach out to committee chairs directly, and definitely come to the conference!

The Missouri Association of Student Financial Aid Personnel (MASFAP) is a dynamic association dedicated to serving and advocating for practitioners, users and providers of student financial aid programs.

- Deanne Cordell's (Northwest Missouri State University) daughter Emily Cordell Niendick recently married the love of her life Brandon Niendick on June 15, 2019. She is so happy to welcome Brandon to their growing family. (pictured right)
- Jon Gruett (Webster University) has accepted the Director of Financial Aid position at East Central College. Jon will start on August 12.
- Patti Mathieson was recently promoted from Assistant Director to Associate Director of Financial Aid at Culver-Stockton College. She has worked at Culver-Stockton for over 15 years.

- Lori Baer, Kansas City Art Institute, shared a photo from a team building activity their staff participated in at the Ironwoods Challenge Course this week. Lori made it to the top along with Assistant Dean of Students, Joe Timson. She always wanted to try one of the challenges and was proud to know "this Grammy" could still do it, lol! (pictured left)

- Mr. Alfred Robinson, Director of Student Financial Services at Lincoln University, will be officially retired May 31, 2019.

- Kevin Foster, formerly of Avila University, accepted a position at the University of Kansas in Lawrence.

- Courtney Grimm is the new student loan coordinator at William Woods University.

- Missouri Southern State University has hired Brett Cline as Scholarship Counselor. His first day at MSSU was July 10. Brett previously worked at Vatterott College in Financial Aid for 12 years, so MSSU is excited to add him to their team!
- Logan University has a new financial aid advisor, Sara Lawrence, that started with us on April 29th. Welcome!
- Tony Lubbers (University of Central Missouri) and wife, Shawn, recently celebrated their 25th Anniversary in Paris last month. A trip to remember! (pictured below)

You Are Invited

Please join us to celebrate Pam Fowler's Retirement!

Pam most recently served as the Executive Financial Aid Director at the University of Michigan. Her career path led her through Missouri where she spent a few years as the Director of Financial Aid at University of Missouri-St. Louis. Pam has always been an impact player regardless of where she worked or which state. It is only fitting that we host a reception so her many MAFAP friends can stop by to congratulate and wish her the best as she moves on to another chapter in her life.

‘Triton F.L.Y. Week’ promotes financial literacy among students with help from hip-hop artist Dee-1

APR/15/2019 | POSTED BY STEVE VALENTIK

Hip-hop artist Dee-1 spoke and performed last Tuesday at the Blanche M. Touhill Performing Arts Center during a kickoff event for Triton F.L.Y. Week – Financial Literacy for You. (Photos by August Jennewein)

David Augustine Jr. has built a career as a hip-hop recording artist under the stage name Dee-1 with more than 49,000 followers on Twitter and 197,000 on Instagram.

But long before he broke through in the music industry, going on nationwide tours and ultimately signing with RCA Records, he was a kid from humble beginnings in the Ninth Ward of New Orleans looking to education as means of improving his future.

He has partnered with consumer banking company Sallie Mae and gone around the country sharing lessons he learned about how to afford a college degree, which in his case led him to a job as a middle school math teacher before he was discovered.

School Spotlight: University of Missouri St. Louis

Juniors and seniors from area high school districts, including Hazelwood and Riverview Gardens, join UMSL students listening to Dee-1 speak and perform during the Triton F.L.Y. Week kickoff

Dee-1 spoke and performed last Tuesday at the University of Missouri–St. Louis Blanche M. Touhill Performing Arts Center to kick off Triton F.L.Y. Week – Financial Literacy for You – organized by members of the Office of Student Financial Aid and the Office of Admissions.

“I don’t know how many of y’all can relate to this, but I didn’t grow up rich,” he told an audience of a few hundred high school and college students shortly after taking the stage in the Anheuser-Busch Performance Hall. “My people didn’t really have much money, so when it came time to go to college, I had to make a decision, which was how am I going to pay for school.”

Dee-1 shared the merits of applying for loans and grants – free money that can help make a degree more attainable.

He also offered lessons on how to use loans wisely, taking out only the money a person needs and making certain the person is choosing a school that is affordable for them and their intended career.

Dee-1 implored the students – including high school juniors and seniors from nearby school districts such as Hazelwood and Riverview Gardens – to follow through with their education.

“Going to college does not change your life,” he told the students. “Graduating college does change your life.”

Making smart financial decisions now can carry over into adulthood, Dee-1 said. He shared a story about the first thing he did when he signed his record deal.

“All these people put pressure on me to buy this, buy this, buy this,” Dee-1 said. “But if as soon as you get money, you spend it all on these name brands, then you’re broke again. So the first thing I did with my money – nobody told me to do this – the first thing I did with my money is I finished paying off all my student loans that I took out to go to college. Because you’re not really a boss if you’re still in debt and if you owe people.”

That was the inspiration for Dee-1’s hyper-energetic 2016 single, “Sallie Mae Back,” which he later performed to loud cheers while joined on stage by some of the students dancing along.

Throughout the course of Tuesday’s program, Dee-1 passed out gift cards to students who asked or answered questions.

Dee-1 also helped celebrate the winners of 11 scholarships – two $500 awards each from Sallie Mae and Commerce Bank and seven $1,000 scholarships from UMSL.

An event Thursday afternoon in the Student Government Association Chambers in the Millennium Student Center looked more deeply at financial decision-making and provided information about how to pay off student loans.

Scott Wolla, the economic education coordinator for the Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis, led students through a series of activities to help them with budgeting and understanding cash flows.

William Shaffner, the director of business development and government relations for the Missouri Higher Education Loan Authority, explained different loan repayment options available for students and discussed things they need to look out for when they finish school.

“I learned a lot, especially about student loans,” said Nyla Reed, a freshman studying social work who attended the session along with other students in her University Studies seminar course. “A lot of this is stuff that we don’t know, and me being a first-generation student, my parents don’t know this stuff either. So I do think it’s valuable, especially for those students who don’t have people who know the information already and are able to share it with them.”

That was the goal of Triton F.L.Y. Week.

“We do a good job preparing students academically for life after college,” said Chris Bowen, assistant director in UMSL’s Office of Student Financial Aid. “We want to make sure that we’re also preparing them to be financially successful so they’re able to live a life that they want and not be burdened by debt.”

Reed was among four additional students to receive scholarships at Thursday’s event.

Tony Georges, the director of student financial aid, hopes to provide similar programming for students next year while building an even bigger audience.

“This is our start,” he said. “We hope that this will grow, like most programs. We’ll continue to do what we can to get more students to come and provide experts like we did to come in and deliver the information needed.”

If you could do another job for just one day, what would it be?

If I could do another job for one day it would be interior design.

Kimberly Meeker, North Central Missouri College

I would be a baker.

Janice Barnes, Saint Louis University

There are too many possibilities... I think I would be a shoe designer. I would make the shoes comfortable and cute.

Samantha Matchefts, University of Missouri St. Louis

I would be a travel agent.

Ginny Burns, MOHELA

Medivac helicopter pilot.

Stephen Garman, Missouri State University

I would work in a museum as a research assistant. I love research. I love art. Perfect job for me!

Lorrie Baird, East Central College

I want to be a Fitness Trainer, and get paid to work out! (maybe that would motivate me more--LOL)

Becca Diskin, Missouri Southern State University

A zookeeper

Laurel Miller, Logan University

I would be a professional golfer/fisherman!

Brice Baumgardner, Hannibal-LaGrange University

It is interesting I was just asked what my dream job was in a department meeting recently. My answer remains the same my job choice will always be anywhere that I am serving people. Working in education and being a pastor's wife makes service a way of life for me, so I could be working at a resort, a department store, or McDonalds and I would be happy as long as I have the opportunity to serve others.

Stacy Bogier, Goldfarb School of Nursing

I'm torn! Lots of different things come to mind, but my #1 choice would be middle school math!

Patti Mathieson, Culver-Stockton College

FAFSA Frenzy Scholarship Drawings

FAFSA Frenzy

By Lisa Wilson, MDHE

This spring MASFAP members had the honor and privilege to present five $1,000 FAFSA Frenzy scholarships to students who had participated in FAFSA Frenzy during 2018-19. Each student was presented with an oversized check with their name and award during a special presentation. Scholarship winners were selected from a pool of more than 2,300 FAFSA filers. To be eligible to receive the funds, the winning students must be enrolled in a fall 2019 postsecondary program in Missouri and provide enrollment verification.

Final enrollment verification is taking place and funds will be sent to the school in which the student is enrolled.

Winners for the 2018-19 FAFSA Frenzy Scholarship were:

- Antonia Woodard, Hazelwood Central, St. Louis
- Danielle Read, State Fair Community College, Sedalia
- James Lyerla, Pattonville High School, Maryland Heights
- Sommer Anderson, Warsaw R-IX High School, Warsaw
- Anna Snuffer, Purdy R-II High School, Purdy

2019-20 FAFSA Frenzy Preparations Underway

FAFSA Frenzy

By Lisa Wilson, MDHE

Summer is half way over and it soon will be time for the 2019-20 FAFSA Frenzy program year, during which students will submit the 2020-21 FAFSA. Have you registered to host your FAFSA Frenzy?

If you would like to host a FAFSA Frenzy between the dates of October 1, 2019 and January 31, 2020, register now at <https://surveys.mo.gov/index.php/325680>. Site registrations will be accepted through Friday, Aug. 23 at 5 p.m.

If you would like to volunteer to assist at a FAFSA Frenzy site near you, the FAFSA Frenzy volunteer registration form is also now available at <https://surveys.mo.gov/index.php/638976>. This year the volunteer registration process has a number of changes:

- The form opened in July – two months earlier than prior years – and FAFSA Frenzy events listed are those registered year to date. Additional sites will be added to the site selection questions as they register.
- Volunteers may register for more than one site using a single form submission. If you choose to volunteer at multiple sites, be sure to select event dates/times that do not conflict.
- We are offering t-shirts to volunteers this year. You may select your t-shirt size and provide your address when you complete the volunteer registration form, and we will ship your t-shirt to you.

If you have any questions regarding FAFSA Frenzy events in Missouri, please email us at JourneytoCollege@dhe.mo.gov. Additional information may be found at <https://dhe.mo.gov/ppc/fafsafrenzy.php>.

Monitor Submission Policy

Articles may be submitted by any person, company or organization for consideration by the MASFAP Monitor staff and are subject to approval prior to publishing in the newsletter. In general, submissions are made by members of the organization. The author's name should be included in the submission. The editor reserves the right to reject or edit the content of any article or information submitted.

Articles will be edited for accuracy, quality and appropriate length. Submissions may be limited to one article per Monitor, per person, company, or organization, depending on space.

Articles are intended to be informational and for the benefit of MASFAP members, not for company promotion or advertising.

If the author is unavailable or a resolution can't be reached, the editor will refer it to the committee chairperson and President for a decision about publication.

The MASFAP Monitor is brought to you by the Communications Committee. Submissions for the next MASFAP Monitor are due October 11, 2019.

MASFAP Committee Updates

Kim Cary—VP/Program

The program committee is currently finalizing all sessions and activities for the conference. Watch the website soon for pre conference information.

Looking forward to celebrating our financial aid superheroes!

Laurel Miller—Newcomer

The Newcomer Committee just sent out a request for nominations for the Bob Berger Newcomer Award. The submission deadline is: Friday, August 2, 2019.

Becca Diskin—Treasurer

Budget and Finance is exploring its investment options for our scholarship account.

Stephen Garman—Web Development

Final preparations are underway to go live with our new website. A webmaster position has been established to quickly address website changes as needed.

Lorrie Baird—Awards

Emails were sent out July 10 to all members asking for nominations for the Student Success Story Award and to remind everyone to make sure their years of service information is up-to-date and to submit retiree information for recognition at the November conference.

The Student Success Story Award honors students who are successful financial aid recipients; which doing so honors all students who have achieved success through financial aid.

To update years of service information, you will need to go to www.masfap.org and click on MEMBER SERVICES. Click on UPDATE MEMBER PROFILE to login. Check and update (if needed) “Starting Year in Profession”. Click continue until you have reached the screen which states “Edit Record”.

Retiree information can be submitted to me via email at lorrie.baird@eastcentral.edu.

School Spotlight: Drury University

Article submitted by Natalie Crawford, Drury University

Drury University marketing team wins two international CASE awards

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., June 13, 2019 — Drury University's marketing and communications team earned two international awards from the Council for Advancement and Support of Education (CASE) for its work to promote the university and the new Your Drury Fusion academic experience launching this fall.

The CASE Circle of Excellence awards honor outstanding work in advancement services, alumni relations, communications, fundraising, and marketing at colleges, universities, and independent schools across the country and around the world. Winners were announced Wednesday.

Drury won a silver award for its overall marketing and branding campaign surrounding Your Drury Fusion.

The new academic experience guarantees that students will graduate having discovered the power that comes from merging professional goals with personal passions. It combines life and career credentials in the form of unique undergraduate certificates; an intense focus on hands-on, real-world experiences; and life-changing mentorship for every student.

"The concept was solid and true to Drury's brand positioning as it would be difficult to just insert any other school name," judges said.

Drury also won a gold award for its 2018 "Go Beyond" brand video. Intended as a recruitment piece, the video was designed to appeal to many stakeholders in what has come to be known as "The Drury Family."

"Drury University created a spectacular video that was chill producing, stunning, and well written with beautifully powerful music to tie it all together," judges said.

STUDENT SUCCESS STORY AWARD

Deadline for submission is August 2, 2019

This award is intended to focus on individuals while symbolizing the real purpose of financial aid, which is to provide the means to pursue and realize a postsecondary education. One award may be presented each year.

The Selection Criteria

The Association is not attempting to select the "most successful" former financial aid recipients, but rather to choose people who can be representatives of all aid recipients who are successful. Each nominee for the Student Success Story must meet the following qualifications:

1. The nominee must hold a degree or certificate of completion from a post-secondary educational institution within the state of Missouri, which is an eligible institution for U.S. Department of Education Title IV student assistance programs.
2. The nominee must have received financial assistance while enrolled at the institution.
3. The nominee currently either must be engaged in vocational or professional activity, or be enrolled in a graduate or professional school. Preference will be given to nominees who are not practicing aid administrators.
4. The recipient must be able and willing to attend the awards ceremony. (The Awards Committee will contact recipients and make necessary travel arrangements.)

MASFAP is dedicated to serving students. Therefore, it is fitting that the Association honors students who are successful financial aid recipients and, in so doing, honors all students who needed aid, received aid, and used aid to achieve success.

The Selection

All members of the Association are eligible to submit a nomination. The Awards Committee will evaluate each nomination and hold discussion on the merits of each potential recipient. The Awards Committee shall have the prerogative to request additional information if necessary. The final selection will be based on the concept of what the award is intended to represent.

The Presentation

1. The Student Success Story recipient will be announced and presented at the annual conference.
2. The Nominator and a representative from the student's institution are encouraged to attend.
3. The recipient will be expected to attend and receive their award in person.
  - a. Travel Expenses for the recipient will be assumed by MASFAP.
  - b. Travel expenses will include mileage (per the Association's reimbursement policy), costs of the conference meal for the recipient and one guest, and hotel accommodations for one evening, if needed.
  - c. The Awards Chair (or designee) will collaborate with the Site Chair for the meal reservations and hotel accommodations.
  - d. The Awards Chair (or designee) will assist the recipient with completion of the Association's Reimbursement Request form in order to initiate reimbursement for mileage expenses, and submit to the Budget and Finance Committee for processing.
